Some Things Just Aren't Right

I'm not one to pass a bargain and am always looking at the grocery store for those bargains. I found one the other day that was a bit strange. It was in the day old bread section. Now what was strange about the loaf of bread was that it was bright green. I mean bright. Evidently it was left over from the holiday.

When I got it home the inside was just as green as the outside. It tasted OK and was just fine for sandwiches. One thing I will say about it was it really looked weird toasted. It just wasn't right.

This is true when it comes to spiritual things as well. Some times folks let their emotions and feelings push them along the way only later to find that their feelings were wrong.

When I was a little boy I found a baby bunny. Well, I brought him home and tried to care for him the best I could only to have him die. I felt really bad as you might imagine. I should have left him in the wild for his mother to care for him yet I felt I was doing right.

“There is a way which seemeth right unto a man; But the end thereof are the ways of death.” Proverbs 14:12, 16:25

The age old problem that plagues man is that he wants to do things his way. This is quite often a good thing at home, play, and even in working situations. However, when it comes from God's point of view we could find it to be devastating in the end.

In Hebrews chapter four the first couple verses the writer says that we should fear for we could lose our place in heaven. He goes on to say that we have had good things preached to us but some more or less did not pay attention to it. In verse two he says they did not couple it with faith.

Perhaps their attitude was, “well, it won't happen to me. God wouldn't send me to hell.” “After all God wouldn't object, it's the 21st century, the world has changed so should we.” Hmmm, interesting and I can see the logic in this way of thinking. Yet, James 1:17 teaches that there is no variation with God. He says, “For I Jehovah, change not...” in Malachi 3:6.

So, if God does not change and there is no variation with Him then could He say depart from me? Take a look at Matthew 7:21-23.

Yes, there are things that just aren't right in life, like the green bread, and there are things that God does not want His people doing. That includes worshiping Him in ways He has not authorized.

On Being Thankful

A 4-year-old boy was asked to say the blessing for the Thanksgiving dinner. He began thanking God for his Mommy, his Daddy, his brother, his sister, his Grandpa, his Grandma and all of his extended relatives, naming them on by one. Then he began giving God thanks for the food. He gave thanks for the turkey, the dressing, the fruit salad, the cranberry sauce, the cakes, the pies, even the Cool Whip.

Then he paused, and after a long silence looked up and asked his mother, "If I thank God for the broccoli, won't He know I'm lying?"
